

Croatian Forest Institute

Luka Rumora

(1) University of Zagreb, Faculty of Geodesy

SCERIN-3 Capacity Building Workshop (CBW)
Braşov, Romania 13-17 July, 2015

Croatian Forest Institute

- public research institution for forestry
- Institute's principle objectives
 - conservation and preservation of stability, productivity, biodiversity and genetic resources of forest ecosystems in Republic of Croatia

Main goals

- Forest management – assure renewable source of energy and bio products
- Social aspect
- Climatic activity
- Using natural resources with bio-economy
- Welfare of local population

Research activity

- Main 3 research activity:
 1. Forest in changed climate and environmental conditions
 2. Forest genetic diversity ability to adapt
 3. Forest management and evaluating forest product